Record Management

Appraisal of Records: During the period under report approximately 46,000 files of the Departments of Finance, (1924-46); Commerce, (1941-54), and Education, Health and Lands (1923-46) in the custody of the National Archives of India were appraised, besides carrying out a test-check of nearly 5,000 files of the Ministry of External Affairs. Notes were compiled on the organizational set up of the Department of Finance and the Department of Education, Health and Lands for helping the officers engaged in the appraisal of those records. Collection of information regarding the archival assets of the various Ministries and Departments of the Government of India has been taken up with a view to compiling an up-to-date data about all the non-current and semi-current records lying the custody of all the Union Ministries and the Central Departments and their Attached and Subordinate Offices.

Inspection of Record Rooms and other Advisory Duties: The Record Rooms of the Departments of Agriculture, Labour and Employment, Indian Posts and Telegraph Department (Board) and Director General of Supplies & the A.G.C.R., were inspected by Shri M.L. Ahluwalia, Assistant Director of Archives (Record Management) and advice given on the various problems concerning management and preservation of their non-current and semi-current records. Miss D.G. Keswani, Deputy Director of Archives (now Officer on Special Duty) also inspected the Records Room of the Posts and Telegraphs Board, and it was decided to obtain the old printed files lying there from the year 1885 onwards. On the request of the Controller of Defence Accounts, Meerut, an officer of the Department was deputed there to sort out the important records lying in that office for transfer to the National Archives of India.

The Department also made available the necessary know-how on problems of record management to the Assistant Director of Archives, Kerala, Administrative Officer, Office of the Inspector General of Armaments, Assistant Director, Directorate General of Security, Cabinet Secretariat and the Senior Analyst, Hindustan Steel Limited, Bhilai. Besides the above, the Department continued to have liaison with the Department of Administrative Reforms, Government of India with regard to the improvements in the Central Secretariat Manual of Office Procedure (1963 edition) and the compilation of Retention Schedules for records common to all Ministries etc.

National Register of Private Records

Inadequate financial assistance by State Governments and lack of qualified staff retarded, to some extent the progress of salvaging records in private custody. The Department received 427 proformas, covering 487 documents, 3 volumes and 3 books from Andhra Pradesh, Assam, Bihar, Jammu and Kashmir, Kerala, Mysore, Punjab, Orissa and Uttar Pradesh. No reports were received from Gujarat, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Rajasthan, Tamil Nadu and West Bengal.

Reports about the expenditure incurred on the scheme during 1971-72 are as follows:

Andhra Pradesh Rs.8,858.67, Assam Rs.12,475.92; Jammu and Kashmir Rs.4,837.00, Kerala Rs.9,212; Mysore Rs.12,943.31, Punjab Rs.3,625.55, Uttar Pradesh Rs.1,440.65 and Tamil Nadu Rs.482.75. As regards the National Archives of India, a sum of Rs.56,770 was spent on the project as against a provision of Rs.72,000 under the Plan budget.

Compilation work: Two volumes of National Register of Records are ready and expected to come out shortly. These include Part III of 1959-60 and the Register for 1961-62, comprising collections from different States. The work in respect of Part II of the National Register of Records for 1959-60 is also nearing completion. Compilation of the Registers for 1960-61 and 1962-63 have been taken up.

Preservation of Records

Research and Advice on Repair and Preservation: Research Laboratory of the Department continued its efforts to help to locate and use materials manufactured indigenously for conservation and restoration work. For this purpose samples of tissue paper, ledger paper, bond paper, chiffon (silk) and long cloth, fine as well as coarse, were obtained from the local market and tested for their suitability for restoration work. Also samples of duplicating paper were tested to ascertain their suitability for stencil duplication work and for their keeping qualities. Samples of paper for library catalogue-cards were also tested to ascertain their suitability and to draw up specification for the same. Testing work on samples of paper suitable for docket covers was continued and tentative specifications for the same were drawn up.

Seals on Persian documents were treated to prevent damage during handling and storage, and broken seals were strengthened to preserve them over a period of time. Tests were conducted on various microfilm collections of the Department to ascertain the residual hypo content and prevent their deterioration. Experiments were started to test the efficacy of the various de-acidification processes with a view to find out a process which could be used with utmost rapidity and is also less expensive. A sample of Magnisium Methoxide solution used in the Chicago Process and developed by Dr.R.Smith in U.S.A. was tested as to its efficacy for de-acidification purpose.

Technical advice regarding the problems of repair, rehabilitation and preservation of records, manuscripts and rare books was rendered as usual to 32 institutions. 122 copies of the brochure 'Repair and Preservation of Records' were supplied to individuals and institutions on request.

Repair and Rehabilitation of Records in the custody of National Archives of India: Due to various reasons, the Lamination Press could be operated only for a short period. In all 8,558 sheets were laminated by the machine Lamination Press, and 9,668 sheets by the solvent Laminating Process. 22,249 sheets were repaired with tissue and 540 sheets and 4 maps were repaired with chiffon (silk), while 738 maps were mounted on cloth.

Minor repairs were carried out in 39,449 sheets and 611 maps. 1,52,199 sheets and 106 maps were deacidified and old patches removed. 1,12,902 sheets were flattened, 1,73,462 sheets were guarded and 171 original consultations were docketed.

Besides, 362 volumes, 676 books, 2,536 booklets, 417 original consultations, 9 lists, 13 registers, 572 files and 282 miscellaneous items were stitched and bound. L.P.Mixture was applied to 31,600 volumes of the Home and Public Department.

Repair and Rehabilitation of Records belonging to outside Agencies: The Department extended repair and rehabilitation facilities to the Nehru Memorial Museum and Library, Ministry of External Affairs Library, Archaeological Survey of India, Paropkarni Sabha, Ajmer, Jamia Millia Islamia, New Delhi and Prof.N.K. Bose. Of the private papers collection that were treated for preservation, mention may be made of Jayakar papers, Dadabhai Naoroji papers, Tyabji papers, and Gandhiji papers.

Air-Cleaning and Fumigation: 1,101 bundles of records were air-cleaned and 700 bundles, 300 volumes and 250 files were fumigated.

Microfilming and Photo-Duplication: The programme of microfilming of public as well as private records in the custody of the Department was continued. As a result of this 82,000 pages of Home Department Political Indexes, 1907-40, rare Persian manuscripts, V.K. Krishnaswami Aiyer Papers, Jayakar Collection of newspaper-clippings and also Swami Dayanand manuscripts at Ajmer and Sardar Patel Papers in the custody of Miss Manibehn Patel at Ahmedabad were microfilmed. Records were also microfilmed on behalf of the 163 scholars and institutions, both in India and abroad, on their request. The total work-load carried by the Reprographic service of the Department comes to 2,60,000 pages on microfilm, 8,508 meters of Positive Printing and 3122 photo-copies. Also technical information on reprography was supplied to the Government of Andhra Pradesh, the Library, Ministry of Foreign Trade, National Buildings Organisation and the U.P. State Archives to mention a few.

Training

Diploma Course in Archives-Keeping: 7 trainees, admitted in October, 1971, completed their training successfully. For the session commencing from October, 1972, 15 trainees joined the course. Besides, 2 officers, one each from the Kerala State Archives and the Aligarh Muslim University, completed their Observation Course in the Department. Training in photography was also imparted to an official of the Geological Survey of India, Calcutta.

The proposed Short-term Courses in Management and Preservation of Records for training of Departmental Record

Officers and others could not be started as the staff required for the programme was not so far sanctioned by the Government.

Library

511 books were acquired for the National Archives of India Library, which included 4-Pre-1900 rare publications.

Exhibitions of Documents and Repair Materials: The permanent exhibition of records and manuscripts in the Department attracted 463 visitors. As usual the Department also contributed for the exhibition organised at Trivandrum in connection with 41st Session of the Indian Historical Records Commission. A large number of documents, from the Public records, and Private Papers were displayed. Specimens of records damaged by various insects, etc. and the Processes employed for their repair and preservation were exhibited. Besides photostats showing reprographic equipment and samples of a few chemicals were also displayed.

Committees and Conferences

Dr. S.N. Prasad, Director of Archives, Government of India, attended a meeting of the Committee appointed to decide the date for the celebration of the bicentenary of the birth of Raja Rammohun Roy. The meeting was held at Calcutta on 5 and 6 December 1971. He was also appointed a member of the Committee, constituted to work out the details regarding the objectives, functions and membership of the Indian Council of Historical Research. For a shortwhile, he also acted as the Ex-officio Secretary of the Council, and in that capacity organised the Inaugural function of the Council held on 27 March, 1972 at Vigyan Bhawan, New Delhi.

Shri R.C. Gupta, Deputy Director of Archives, attended a meeting of E.C.-2 Documentation Sectional Committee of the Indian Standards Institute at Manak Bhawan, New Delhi and also attended a meeting at Santiniketan regarding repair and rehabilitation of records of Rabindra Sadan, Visva-Bharati.

Significant Development since the close of Financial Year

Dr. S.N. Prasad, Director of Archives, Government of India, led for the first time, a delegation of Indian Archivists to the 7th International Congress on Archives held at Moscow from 21 to 25 August 1972. His report on "Technical Assistance for Archival Development" elicited much interest from the members of the International Congress. He also attended the meeting of the Executive Committee of the International Council on Archives of which he is a Member, at Budapest from 17 to 19 Auguet 1972.

Dr. Prasad has been nominated as a member of the Committee on Archival Development also, and was invited by UNESCO at their expense to a planning seminar of archival consultants held at Paris from 4 to 6 December 1972.

Another significant development was the formation of a Working Group by the Union Ministry of Education and Social Welfare to draw up schemes for the development of Archives at the Centre and the States for inclusion in the Fifth Five Year Plan. The Working Group consists of the Director, National Archives of India and the Directors of Archives of Andhra Pradesh, Maharashtra, Mysore, Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal, apart from a few non-officials.

The Working Group met on 3 and 4 October 1972 and suggested schemes covering an estimated amount of Rs. 10 crores. These proposals are now under the consideration of the Government of India. Also, with the appointment of an Officer-on-Special Duty, the scheme for the publication of documents pertaining to Partition and Transfer of Power, as recommended by the Indian Historical Records Commission has been taken up for implementation. It has also been decided that keeping in view the enormity of the task, the National Archives of India, would limit its activities to the collection of materials from public records, while the Indian Council of Historical Research is expected to collect materials from private sources. The editing and publication of documents, both public and private, collected by the National Archives of India and the Indian Council of Historical Research, will be undertaken by the editorial board recently appointed by the Indian Council of Historical Research. In all ten volumes, covering the period from 1937 to 1947 are expected to be published.
